EDUCATION	student drivers wore seat belts while 10 males did not. 2 students were observed driving distracted with cell phones in hand (not using Bluetooth). Additional safety concerns observed were speeding, failure to yield to school buses, backseat passenger distractions, eating while driving, loud music, discarding trash in the parking lot, and no safety signs or messaging on the entrance/exit fence. Data from the effort was shared with school officials and will be addressed during the one week long educational effort. One Week Educational Efforts Update: Students were provided the data from the pre observational surveys. They used the data to create personalized morning announcements that were read out loud each morning during the week. Also, students participated in activities from the D2D statewide distracted driving lesson plans. Teachers were very grateful to have a plan "ready for use" that included answer guides and a wealth of information. Teachers also shared feedback that the plan was very well put together and the option of utilizing the online features of the plan worked best for them. Teachers stated they will continue to use the plan throughout the school year and next with the ease of use of the plan. In addition to the education for the students, the staff realized that the school did not have a student driver policy for the school. The CRTSC coordinator assisted the school in creating a student driver policy template. March 29th Update: School personnel was available to assist during the post observational surveys. They assisted the buses in going first and holding back the student drivers until all buses passed. Young Driver safety partners from OMV, The Safety Place, CRPC, and iCare conducted post observational survey's at McKinley High School. 51 (student driver) vehicles were observed. 24 male drivers and 27 female drivers. 33 student drivers wore seat belts while 18 did not. Males drivers did not wear seat belts at all while female drivers wore them incorrectly. 2 students were observed driving distracted with cell phones in hand (not using Bluetooth). Additional safety concerns observed were speeding, backseat passenger distractions, loud music, reaching over for items in the car, and no safety signs or messaging on the entrance/exit fence. Data from the effort was shared with school officials to continue educational opportunities. NELAHSP-Yes! NELAHSP conducted seat belt usage and DD observation at Sterlington High School in Ouachita Parish. After 1 week of education, seatbelt usage in male drivers increased by 17% and by 21% in females. Sadly the DD increased by 1%, however, total percentage of DD was 6%. See attached exhibits. NSRSC-On April 25th, we partnered with SADD and LSP and conducted a YD observation survey at Northlake Christian. Following the survey we came back and did a rock the belt event. The following week on May 2nd, with the assistance of LSP we conducted our reobservation event. For the April observation event at we recorded a 93% seat belt compliant rate.
